About IRMC and the RBF Society:

Since its inaugural edition in Florence in 2008, IRMC has been the annual gathering of the international risk management research community. Over nineteen editions, the conference has hosted researchers and practitioners from more than 40 countries across six continents, generating a publication legacy of over 1,700 traced papers – more than 26% of which have been published in AJG-ranked journals, including 74 papers in top-tier outlets (AJG 4 or 4*).

The RBF Society connects academia, regulators, and industry around the shared conviction that rigorous research produces better risk practice.
